

Man of Many Hats

It all started 2-17-1941 when Kenneth and Josephine brought him home in his little beanie baby cap.

As a kid he wore his Baseball Hat and Football Helmet.

As a teenager he put on his Loggers' Hat that he wore with his dad and grandpa. He also tried on several Hunting Hats.

Then in 1962 Uncle Sam issued him a nice M.P. Hat to wear.

After the service he put on his Thinking Hat and attended CSU, where he met his wife and daughter Juli and put on his Husband and Dad Hat.

You may not know it, but Dad tried on many varieties of hats including Cowboy Hat, Veterinarian Hat, and Business Management Hat.

But it's the hat Dad wore that I liked best.

*Dad put on his Dad Hat a lot with Russ,
Then Dani, then Ray, and finally Kati.*

You may also have known him in the hat he wore for his time haying in the summer and serving on the school and church boards.

One of his favorite hats would be his Irish St. Patrick Derby Hat that matched the green beer.

But it's the hat that Dad wore that I liked Best.

His Dad Hat was not just for his children, but for all the kids that he helped that came into his life. He was an expert in everything his kids did. He thought he was a wrestler, volleyball player, 4-H leader, football player, cheerleader, and head chef.

But it's the hat that Dad wore that I like best.
